ASK YOUR KID QUESTIONS

Kids say the darndest things. Sometimes to really grow we need to look at the world from the eyes of a child. So here are some questions to ask your kid. Their answers might surprise you.

- what makes you laugh?
- what gets you excited?
- what do i tell you a lot?
- how old do you think i am?
- what's your favorite thing to do?
- what's my favorite thing to do?
- what am i good at?
- what are you good at?
- what do you wish i did better?
- what's my favorite food?
- what do we do together that's fun?
- what makes you sad?

There are so many more questions you can ask, but these should get you started!

infant inspiration

Your infant won't be able to answer the questions you ask. But it is important to talk to them still so they can learn the mechanics of language. Try to ask them questions you'd like them to answer. And pause to give them time to respond, even though they won't. They are learning so much at this age.

toddler tales

Toddlers will give you some of the best answers to these questions. If any of them make you laugh, be sure to share your laughter with your toddler, it will make their day. And it will make them feel appreciated.

preschool power

Preschoolers need to know there is some back and forth in your relationship. So be sure to let them ask you questions to when you're asking questions just for fun.

You'll be amazed to see what things they want to know.
